Juror's comment: Well written, interesting folk tales from all over the world. Each story will be attractive to learners. Also illustrations are very well presented and help learners to visualise the imaginary stories. Grammar and sentence structure are not too difficult for them to cope with. Appropriate glossaries at the bottom of each page will help elementary level learners.

Juror's comment: Each story is quite thought-provoking and extremely well written. They are simply told, lyrical and moving. Reading such a book would contribute to learners' general world knowledge and language skills, and would intrinsically motivate them. Each story would be sure to spark a lot of classroom discussion, too.
